

ROCK HILL HAPPENINGS.

Capt. J. A. Maxwell Loses a Leg—Death of Mrs. J. E. Pryor—Personal and Other Notes.

Rock Hill, September 7.—Capt. J. A. Maxwell, the genial and popular master of the Charleston division of the Southern railway, got his left leg so badly crushed on a local train about noon yesterday near Riverside, that it had to be amputated between the knee and ankle. Capt. Maxwell was climbing up between two cars, after some crossings had been unloaded, and the engineer had started, the train being held up. He was brought to the Fennell hospital in this city after the accident, and after an examination the physicians found it necessary, as above, to amputate the wounded member between the knee and ankle. Capt. Maxwell is one of the most popular men connected with the Southern, and the news of his serious misfortune was received here with much regret.

Mrs. Pauline F. Pryor, wife of Mr. E. Pryor of this city, died Saturday in the hospital for the insane at Columbia, after an illness of several months. She was the daughter of Rev. A. M. Foster, a Baptist minister, now residing in Spartanburg, but formerly of Union. The remains were taken to Spartanburg Sunday for burial.

The 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Heyward Moore, who died suddenly since last Saturday, the result of drinking a considerable quantity of kerosene oil, which the child managed to get hold of while playing about the house. He was still very sick Monday afternoon, but was thought to be out of danger.

There will be a baby show for the benefit of the King's Mountain Monument fund at the city hall in this city this afternoon, under the auspices of the local chapter D. A. R., and it promises to be a great success.

The First Presbyterian church of this city will extend a call to the Rev. H. H. Hudson of Gordonsville, Va., to the pastorate of the White Memorial and Jennings Chapel churches. For the past two or three months, these churches have been supplied by Rev. Johnston Hutchinson of this city, a student at the Theological seminary in Columbia, who will return to Columbia, when the seminary opens about the 15th of this month.

There was quite a little run of new cotton on this market Saturday. Mr. W. A. Darby, manager of the A. E. Willis farm, brought in twelve bales and four bales of extra fine cotton. The F. H. Barber place, besides a few scattering bales from other farms, there were probably twenty bales or more sold during the day.

Mr. Thomas L. Johnston will give a big barbecue today at his Smith's turn-out plantation, near his farm. A number of his friends in this city are also invited to attend.

Roland Steele, the man who was shot at the stockade about ten days ago, while attempting to escape, is said to be improving quite rapidly.

Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnson have returned from an extended northern trip, which included a tour of Canada. General E. M. Law, president of the A. E. Willis farm, is here on a visit to his son, Mr. W. L. Law. General Law is a former citizen of this county.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Friedhelm, returned Friday night from a trip to Philadelphia, New York and other northern cities.

MERE-MENTION.

One man was killed and seven women and children were seriously injured in an automobile accident in Atlanta, Ga., Thursday night. The car was running at a high rate of speed, struck a standing trolley car, skidded fifty feet, turned bottom upwards, and caught fire, pinning the victims under the car. At Grady, Ala., Friday, Wm. Stephenson shot his 15-year-old step-daughter to death, and fatally shot his wife. Stephenson and wife had not lived together for some time past. Stephenson was arrested. George F. Simons of Pottsville, Pa., after killing his mother the previous week, committed suicide Friday. He killed his mother in order to get money to pay his wedding expenses, and in fear of detection committed suicide. The next international aviation contest will probably be held at Indianapolis, Ind. More than $10,000 in cash will be offered in prizes for aeroplanes, dirigibles and balloons. The Roosevelt party has shipped 2,500 specimens of birds, mammals and snakes to the United States for the Smithsonian Institution. The firm of Freeman, Rollings & Co., New York stock brokers, suspended Friday with liabilities of about $200,000. They were short on United States Steel common when the stock made a sudden advance in price. James Dunlap, a prominent business man of Philadelphia, is under $2,500 bonds, charged with embezzling $15,000 of the funds of the James Dunlap Carpet company. The name of Senator Joseph Bailey has been launched as a candidate for the presidential nomination by the Democrats in 1912. The Emory school of business is a sister of the wealthy Chicago man, and Allen Foster were arrested in that city Friday, charged with robbing mail boxes in the better class of apartment houses. The "Dr. Cook" hat is the latest production of the milliner's art. The hat is described as being as high as the cartoonist's ideas of the height of the north pole, is made of brown fur and is given a further chilling effect by a snowy spray or aigrette high up on its left side. A New York court holds that the thirteen directors of the Trust Company of the Republic are personally responsible to its stockholders for about $350,000, lost through loans made by the president of the company without the knowledge of the directors; the court holding that if the directors did not know of the loans it was certainly their business to know, and their ignorance could not excuse them. The Schuylkill river north of Reading, Pa., is so low that the river bed can be crossed on foot without wetting the feet. The river is lower than it has ever been before. The Midvale Steel company of Pennsylvania, is just completing a 14-inch gun for the United States navy. When completed the new gun will be fifty-three and a half feet long, its weight, three and one-third tons; it will require 365 pounds of powder to fire the shell weighing 1,400 pounds. The gun will have an extreme range of twenty-five miles, and an effective fighting range of five miles. Saturday was Japanese Day at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition at Seattle and several thousand Japanese attended the fair. Clyde Fitch, a noted American playwright, died at Chalon-sur-Saone, France, on Saturday. Mayor Franklin P. Stoy, mayor of Atlantic City, N. J., was placed under a $5,000 bail bond Saturday afternoon, for failure to obey a notification from State Attorney General Wilson to enforce the Sunday closing law at the seaside resort. Three adults and an infant were drowned in South pond, near Pulaski, N. Y., Saturday, by the overturning of a small boat. The cotton crop on 1,500 acres in southern California are now being harvested, the first cotton ever grown in that state. In a riot at Frankfort, Ky., Saturday night between state militiamen and civilians, two men were killed, three were fatally shot and several others were more or less injured. Eighteen men in a house, held the soldiers at bay for more than an hour before being arrested and placed in jail. A negro footpad attempted to hold up a deputy sheriff at Minner, Ga., Saturday night and was shot to death. Two negroes were lynched at Clarkdale, Miss., Saturday night, charged with killing a postman. Chended Orlanburger, a 15-year-old, shot his wife to death and then fatally shot himself in a cemetery at Hoboken, N. J., Saturday. The woman charged the man with being untrue to her. Corporal Lyle Crabtree, who several months ago shot at Capt. John C. Raymond, U. S. A., to death at Omaha, Neb., has been sentenced to life imprisonment at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

SOUTH CAROLINA NEWS.

The police of Charleston are carrying on an effective campaign against crime in that city. Charles Schwacke, a well known druggist, was convicted last week of retailing the drug morphine to pay a fine of $50 or go to the chancery for thirty days. He paid the fine. The police say that nearly 2,000 Charleston negroes are users of the drug.

Lancaster special of September 2, to the Columbia State: The woman in Union county, N. C., who charged Judge Moore with committing a criminal assault on her on the 22nd of August, died at her home Tuesday of a few hours' illness. She was thought that she died of poison. Anybody who is in jail at Monroe, where he has been confined since his arrest, as published in the State at the Hunter, attempted to commit suicide in his cell before yesterday—the day after the woman's death—by hanging himself with an improvised rope. He was discovered suspended by his neck by a deputy sheriff in time to save his life.

Columbia State, Sunday: Active preparations are being made by Attorney General Johnston and his associates for a trial of the dispensary "graff" cases at the coming term of court, which convenes Tuesday at Johnston. Hutchinson of this city, a student at the Theological seminary in Columbia, who will return to Columbia, when the seminary opens about the 15th of this month.

DR. COOK

Didn't find any mosquitoes at the north pole. At least he hasn't told us that he did. But if he did he was sure to find malaria there, because, where the cases of malaria are found, you find the most debilitating disease in the world; but there is no malaria in your suffering from Chills and Malaria more than a week after the disease troubles you. We have several chill remedies that are good, among them the York Drug Store's Chill Pills. But if you are suffering from Chills and Malaria, you should try a bottle of Osgood's India Chills and in a week your chills will be a thing of the past.
